This is reflected in its games, which are generally hosted on the website (as opposed to the product), and as a result, are built by users for users. Whether ROBLOX soft products will be accepted into the Steam platform is still unconfirmed.

We are supposed to have it in our classroom but we only used it for homework so far. The thing that I don't like about this game is that some one really has to tell you what to do. They don't run the servers themselves so they often change things and cut off some features. It's also expensive, but I think it's worth the money.
